

Whatever It Takes

The Homeland Security Management Institute and the Monroe County Office of Emergency Management will host its' 2009 National Conference. Featuring national and local experts presenting on emergency and disaster preparedness for special needs populations.

Topics to be discussed:

- Emergency preparedness and response management for the disabled.
- Local and National initiatives in emergency management.
- Current programs that are gaining footholds in several states' emergency operations.
- Disaster response and planning for persons w/special needs.
- Americans with Disabilities Act—Its impact on you, the community and emergency management.
- Developing strategies and solutions to assist individuals, due to their special needs.
- New technologies in the special population area.

Tuesday, August 25, 2009

8:00 AM to 4:00 PM

Monroe Community College
Public Safety Training Facility
1190 Scottsville Rd
Rochester, NY 14624

Fee: $49

National Conference 2009

Homeland Security Management Institute

Guest Speakers

George Heake – Emergency Management & Response Coordinator, Institute on Disabilities, Temple University

Bruce McFarlane, Sr. – Deputy Director of the National Organization on Disability, Emergency Preparedness Initiative

Mary Louise “Muffy” Meisenzahl – Monroe County Office of Emergency Management, Administrator

Homeland Security Management Institute

1190 Scottsville Rd, Suite 100
Rochester, New York 14624

Phone: 585-753-3921

Contact:
smanns@monroecc.edu

www.monroecc.edu/go/hsmi

Who should attend:

Emergency managers, medical services, first responders, individuals with special needs, caregivers and service providers, support and advocacy groups, event organizers and planners, government officials, public health, transportation providers, business leaders, school officials, law enforcement, code enforcement personnel, volunteer managers and human services.

7:30 a.m. Registration and check in time for conference

Visit us online at:

www.monroecc.edu/depts/hsmi/conference/conf\_form.htm,

to register or call: 585.753.3921